Leving will also talk about his efforts in locating and protecting important historical artifacts, which could have otherwise been lost forever. This includes a rare printing signed by Abraham Lincoln of the Emancipation Proclamation that was sent to Northern soldiers during the Civil War. Also discussed, is Leving's discovery of the first Catholic bible published ever in Venice, Italy in 1475, this pre-dates Christopher Columbus' discovery of America. Leving insured significant efforts were undertaken to restore this bible that he discovered in pieces in a deteriorated condition.

The interview will also cover his passion for the arts and the emerging acclaim for his paintings, which have been collected by Queen Latifah and NASA astronaut Mark Kelly (husband to former US Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords). Recently, one of his works was sold at the prestigious Leslie Hindman auction house.

Attorney Jeffery M. Leving has been named one of "America's Best Lawyers" by Forbes Radio and is the country's leading authority on fathers' rights.
